A Seraphim Christmas will fill you with serene joy and jubilant good tidings, and be enhanced with carol singing by all and the majesty of The Bitumen Brass Quartet. The program will include works by Daryl Bichel, Graham Gordon Ramsay, Jason Robison, John Rutter, Timothy Takach, and Patricia Van Ness. Cambridge composer James Woodman's gorgeous piece The Midwife's Tale, one of Seraphim's favorites, will be featured along with the popular work Christmas Cantata by Daniel Pinkham for chorus, brass, and organ. Experience the peace and blessings of Christmas in a heavenly way just days before the 25th.

- ▶ Note that the Sunday evening performance in Cambridge will not feature the brass quartet nor the Pinkham piece. Other works will be substituted.
- ▶ Seraphim will hold its annual winter wear clothing drive in conjunction with these concerts. See the website for details.
